RESOLUTIONS.

No. 1.—Preamble and Resolutions asserting the Jurisdiction and Sovereignty of the State of Virginia over her Ancient Boundaries.

Adopted October 8, 1863.

Whereas the general assembly of Virginia did, on the seventeenth day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-two, adopt the following preamble and resolution:

"Whereas, the public enemy, invited by domestic foes, being in Preamble power in some of the counties of Virginia, where they are confiscating the property of loval citizens, and otherwise oppressing them in a cruel manner: and whereas the traitors there, contemplating a division of this time-honored commonwealth, with the aid of the public enemy, have set up a pretended government over the same, which, under the force of circumstances, could not be prevented by the timely sending of an adequate military force: and whereas the legislature desires to reassure all loyal citizens throughout the commonwealth of their desire and intention to protect them: Therefore,

Resolved by the senate and house of delegates, that in no event will the state of Virginia submit to or consent to the loss of a foot of her soil; that it is the firm determination of the state, and known to be that of the confederate government, to assert and maintain the jurisdiction and sovereignty of the state of Virginia to the uttermost limits of her ancient boundaries, at any and at every cost."

And whereas, since the passage of said resolution by the general assembly, the government of the United States, in pursuance of its settled purpose to override and destroy the separate existence of the states, has attempted to form a new state out of the state of Virginia, in contravention alike of the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of Virginia; and is upholding, by the power of her armies, certain evil-disposed and traitorous citizens of this state, who are leagued with the said United States in their nefarious and wicked purposes against the peace, welfare, institutions and integrity of Virginia: and whereas it is the fixed and unalterable intention of Virginia to maintain and assert her prerogative as set forth in said resolution of the last general assembly, and approved by the confederate congress, and to protect alike her citizens and her soil from the machinations of traitors within and enemies without: There-

1. Resolved by the senate and house of delegates, that Virginia Purpose and demaintains, fixed and unalterable, the purpose and determination so termination of clearly set forth in the resolution of the last general assembly, and *tate that this general assembly cordially readopts and sanctions the same, and redeclares alike to her citizens and the world, that it is the firm determination of the state, and known to be that of the confederate government, to assert and maintain the jurisdiction and sovereignty of the state of Virginia to the uttermost limits of her ancient boundaries, at any and every cost.

2. Resolved, that the governor be requested to send a copy of Governor to these resolutions, properly certified, to the congress of the Confede-transmit to construct the contract to convey the Confederation of the Confe rate States, to convene on the twenty-second of February eighteen hundred and sixty-four, for their approval.

No. 2.—Joint Resolution in relation to the Increase of Pay to Soldiers, and Commutation for Rations not furnished in kind.

Adopted October 21, 1863.

Increase of pay

Resolved by the general assembly, that we instruct our senators and request our representatives in the confederate congress to use their best efforts to procure, at as early a day as practicable, the passage of a law giving increased compensation to the soldiers in the confederate army, and commutation for rations allowed by the Army Regulations, and not furnished in kind.

No. 3.—Joint Resolution defining what Commutation for Clothing is to be allowed to the Non-commissioned Officers and Privates of the Virginia State Line.

Adopted October 30, 1863.

Commutation for clothing Resolved by the general assembly, that the non-commissioned officers and privates of the Virginia state line are entitled to the same commutation for clothing that is allowed by the Confederate States for the time being; that is to say, at the rate of fifty dollars per annum for such period of their service as is prior to October eighth, eighteen hundred and stry-two, and at the rate of one hundred and thirty-four dollars and twelve cents per annum for such period of service as is subsequent to the eighth day of October eighteen hundred and sixty-two; and at said rates for any shorter period of service: the same to be allowed on the pay rolls, deducting therefrom the pay; also, if necessary, the price of all clothing actually issued in kind to each non-commissioned officer and private. The amount thereof to be certified by the company commandant or the quartermasters of the regiment or battalion to which the company belonged.

No. 4.—Joint Resolution directing the Paymaster of the Virginia Forces to suspend Payment of Commutation, &c.

Adopted October 8, 1863.

No. 5.—Joint Resolution concerning Commissioners of the Revenue.

Adopted October 23, 1863.

Districts to be

1. Resolved by the general assembly, that it shall be the duty of every county and corporation court in this commonwealth, in whose county or corporation more than one commissioner of the revenue is now authorized by law, at the first court after the receipt or notification of this resolution, to designate by order of court each commissioner's district by number, commencing with number one, and continuing a successive enumeration until the whole number in the county authorized by law is completed. That such court also, through its clerk, report immediately to the auditor of public accounts the designation of the districts aforesaid, and the name of the present commissioner of the district so designated.

Report to auditor

2. After such order of court shall be made, no change in the designation of the districts shall be made, unless the number of the districts shall be increased or diminished in the county or corporation.

And the parties of the first part, acting on behalf of the state, do agree and covenant to pay to the said parties of the second part two dollars per bushel for said salt so delivered, on delivery, and to fur-

They also stipulate, on behalf of the state and of the board of Use of trains for public works, that the parties of the second part shall, during said transportation two months, have the free and unrestricted use of all trains owned or hired by them, now on the rail road, and of any other trains not belonging to the Virginia and Tennessee rail road company, which they may introduce on the road, subject only to terms now made or to be made with the Virginia and Tennessee rail road company for the use of their roadways; and that the state and the board of public works shall not prevent the Virginia and Tennessee rail road company from hauling wood for said parties of the second part, next after the furnaces of the state of Virginia, when the said parties of the second part are without a sufficient wood train, if that should happen to be the case at any time before the first day of January next.

And they further stipulate on behalf of the state, that the said Abatement parties of the second part shall be allowed a fair and reasonable abatement from their contract for delivery of salt, in the event of interruption of their work by incursion of the public enemy, and in

No. 7 .- Report of the Joint Committee on Salt, on a Communication from the Governor enclosing a Communication from the Governor of Georgia, in respect to Interruption in the transportation of Salt belonging to that

Adopted October 31, 1863.

Report in re-

To the General Assembly of Virginia-The joint committee, to reprint the state of Georgie to supply of salt," beg leave to report:

That they have had the subject therein referred to under careful consideration, and can find nothing in the character of the rules adopted by the board of public works, touching the transportation of salt, which would justify the conclusion that "our sister state of Georgia has been shamefully treated," or require the interposition of the general assembly to "rebuke it."

Your committee appreciate very fully the importance as well as the propriety of cultivating relations of comity and kindness between the states of this Confederacy. Engaged as they are in a common struggle, and dependent, in great measure, upon the prevalence of a spirit of harmony and brotherhood for the ultimate triumph which they hope to achieve, it is the obvious policy of the several states to avoid, in their commercial intercourse, any measure which may lead to discord and discontent

Nevertheless, your committee cannot consider it reasonable that this principle should be carried to such an extent as to absorb all other considerations.

It must be held in subserviency to the higher obligation, under which every government is laid, to provide specially for the safety and welfare of its own people: and tested by this standard, the conduct of the board of public works has been, in the opinion of your committee, entirely unexceptionable. For, while it would be gross illiberality in the authorities of the state of Virginia to deny to any of her sister states all proper facilities for sharing in the benefits to be derived from the production and distribution of an adequate supply of salt, it would be manifest injustice to her own people to permit the enjoyment of such privileges in such manner as to deprive them of advantages to which they are properly entitled.

As your committee understand the resolution adopted by the board of public works in relation to this subject, it provides, in substance, as follows: That foreign trains shall be permitted to run upon the rail roads of this commonwealth, upon condition that such trains shall transport the salt manufactured by states, when awaiting transportation, in preference to salt manufactured on private account, or for purposes of speculation.

The effect of this rule would seem to be, to insure to the people of the states interested in the production of salt, an adequate supply upon the most reasonable terms, and to protect them against the evils of speculation and extortion. It certainly cannot be regarded as improper that this state should require that trains of other states, after transporting the salt of such states, should transport for the state of Virginia before transporting the salt of private manufacturers, whose interest it is to sell at extortionate prices.

This rule, properly construed, does not give the state of Virginia any priority in the use of foreign trains over the state to which such trains belong. If such has been the result in any case, it must have been due to the uncertainty which attached to the true character of some of the enterprises purporting to be conducted on state account.

A repetition of such mistakes may be effectually prevented, by adopting such rules as will certainly fix the true relation which enterprises bear to the several states.

To accomplish this object, your committee submit the following resolution, and recommend its passage by the general assembly:

Resolved by the general assembly, that the power conferred by the Order of priority act of March thirtieth; eighteen hundred and sixty-three, upon the for transportations are superintendent of salt works, to control (under the control of the board of supervisors) transportation on the several rail roads of this commonwealth, for the conveyance of supplies to the salt works, &c., shall, so far as trains belonging to other states are concerned, be exercised so as to allow transportation by said trains in the following order of priority:

1st. To the transportation necessary for the Confederate States government.

2d. To the transportation necessary for the state owning or employing such trains, in the production and distribution of salt made by such state, for the supply of its own citizens, and not the subject of speculation. In ascertaining the true character of any of the works employed in the maoufacture of salt, the certificate of the governor of any state, under the seal thereof, shall be regarded as unquestionable evidence of the facts stated therein.

3d. To the transportation necessary for the state of Virginia in the production and distribution of state salt.

4th. To the transportation necessary for private citizens or corporations of the state owning or employing said trains.

Your committee submit herewith a communication from the board of supervisors, and also a communication from Honorable B. H. Big-ham, agent for Georgia.

Resolved, that the governor be requested to transmit to the gover- To be transnor of Georgia a copy of this report, and a copy of his communica-mitted to govertion addressed to the general assembly of Virginia, calling their attention to the subject of the communication of the governor of the state of Georgia.

RESOLUTIONS.

No. 1.—Address of the General Assembly to the Soldiers of Virginia.

Adopted March 9, 1864.

Soldiers of Virginia in the Armies of the Confederate States—It Address of gin now nearly three years since you left your homes and firesides, at neral assembly the call of your state, to repel the invasion of her soil. Before Virginia taking up arms, every effort to obtain the peaceful enjoyment of your rights under the constitution had been exhausted, your appeals for justice spurned with contempt, and a war to subjugate our sister states of the south commenced by Abraham Lincoln.

By this lawless proceeding, the federal administration threw off the mask it had hitherto worn. In such a contest Virginia could not remain an indifferent spectator. Bound by every tie of blood, sympathy, common interests and common wrongs to the states against whom this hostile preparation was set on foot, she withdrew at once from an association which no longer respected a written constitution, and resolved to receive on her own bosom the threatened shock of invasion. She invoked you to rally to defend your homes, your altars and your honor; and this appeal was not made in vain. Promptly and generously you responded to the call of duty. Most faithfully have you performed it. In your long and arduous service you have shrunk from no toil, no danger and no sacrifice. During your absence in the field, your wives and little ones may have suffered want; your homes been ravaged, and the fruits of industry destroyed by a ruthless and barbarous enemy. But, in despite of every temptation, you have never looked back. Your eye has always been fixed on the foe, and your ear waiting for the summons to battle. Amid the toil of the march, the weary watch, the labor, the hunger, the cold, the privations of the camp, you have never complained, but have always rendered a cheerful obedience to the state which bonors and cherishes you with a mother's love.

You have been present in most of the important battles of the war, and in all your valor has been conspicuous. It has made you the theme of praise by your heroic companions from other states.

Many of your comrades have fallen in battle, or from disease contracted in service, and been transferred from the roll of life to that of immortality. There are many more, whose mutilated forms attest their honorable devotion to their country. In your prolonged absence from home, your sacrifice of personal interests and of all the enjoyments of life, has indeed been great. The war, forced upon us by the malice of a people whom we had not injured, has entailed upon us all deep sorrow and cruel suffering. Its unavoidable calamities have been greatly augmented by the refusal of the enemy to respect the laws of civilized warfare, and by their fiendish attempt to wrest submission from us, by visiting the most relentless barbarities upon women and children, the aged and the helpless. Unbridded license has been given to their cupidity. Untold millions of property have been wantonly destroyed by their malice, or swelled the coffers of the pampered villains, who, anwhipt of justice, have been openly rewarded and promoted for their crimes. Aged and unoffending men have been dragged from their beds to dreary prisons and solitary labor. Refined and virtuous women have been brutally insulted, and, manacled by rude unfeeling soldiery, have been led captive from their homes as hostages for negroes. Farms have been desolated; dwellings laid in ashes; unprotected women and helpless children have been turned out from their homes without bread or shelter. The tombs of the gallant dead have been robbed and descerated by flends, who have ruthlessly invaded the sanctity of the grave, and outraged the sensibilities of the living.

Under the hypocritical guise of liberating from slavery a population happier and more virtuous than themselves, they have sought to subject us to a yoke more galling than they have essayed to remove.

Within a few days past an expedition has been projected and an abortive effort made to carry into execution, with minute instructions emanating (as we have reason to believe) from the government at Washington, to sack and fire the city of Richmond, and in the darkness of the night to consign its inhabitants, without a moment's warning, to flames and to death. For this purpose, a special "burning party" was organized, provided with implements of destruction, and orders to carry into execution their fell designs. Amid its blazing ruins the released prisoners from "Belle Isle" and "the Libby" were to unite with the bands of Dahlgren and Kilpatrick in dealing out death and slaughter upon unoffending and peaceful citizeus, and inflicting outrages upon pure and unprotected women, more horrible than death.

The heart sickens at the contemplation of the enormities that would have been committed, had this nefarious scheme succeeded. No prayer for mercy would have been heard; no scream for help would have been heeded. Fire, rapine, slaughter and lust would have held undisputed dominion in this fair city.

We forbear to enlarge, but make this recital, that you may know more clearly the character of our foe, and that he may be held up to the odium and execration of mankind.

In shameless disregard of all the rules of civilized warfare, your chief magistrate and his cabinet were, by special directions, to be denied the rights of prisoners of war, and killed in cold blood. Every species of public and private property was to be destroyed, and the entire country within their reach laid waste.

Stimulated and encouraged by the precepts and example of their leaders, this band of robbers and murderers entered private houses; broke open ladies' wardrobes; destroyed of their rich contents what they could not appropriate; carried off jewels and plate; consigned to the flames stores of provisions; burnt mills and other houses; desolated some of the fairest homes of the state, and left whole families without food.

Thanks to the gallantry of a citizen soldiery, they were routed and repulsed, in the midst of this carnival of crime, which must outrage the sensibilities of the civilized world. Many of them, with awakened consciousness of their deserts, now contemplate their doom within the walls of the prison from which they hoped to release their companions.

An avenging God suddenly summoned their atrocious leader from the scene of his wickedness to the bar of judgment, and on his slain body were found his atrocious instructions, stained with his own blood. The name of Dahlgren will be handed down to history as a fit associate in infamy with Butler, and a host of lesser criminals, who have disgraced humanity, and shocked the moral sense of the world.

But in these very atrocities you will discern the motive, if any were needed, for continued services and fresh sacrifices. Virginia takes no step backward. Every consideration of honor, interest, duty and safety demand that we shall go forward in the grand struggle for human rights and human liberty, so bravely begun, and so manfully maintained.

After all that we have suffered and endured, subjugation or submission to the cruel fee would reduce us to a degree of degradation and misery which has no parallel in the history of civilization.

The sacrifices of blood and treasure that we have expended, the memories of the noble martyrs who have freely given their lives for the achievement of our independence, forbid that we should needlessly throw away what has been already won, in the vain hope of obtaining peace or security.

Nothing but wretchedness and untold misery await us, if we stop short of the unconditional acknowledgment of our independence.

This your valor will surely command.

Men of Virginia! von are soldiers of a renowned commonwealth, whose fame you have illustrated and borne aloft on every battle field. We need not unfold to you the muniments of your right to selfgovernment. We are assured that you fully comprehend the necessity of a successful assertion of that right, and that you will never lay down your arms until you have secured it. Born to an inheritance of freedom, you cannot hesitate to choose between slavery or death. Submission to an enemy, who has exhausted every infamy, is not endurable even in thought; but were we base enough to desire peace upon any terms less than the unqualified recognition of our independence, self-interest alone would teach us the folly of relying upon the forbearance of a nation who have shown in every step of the war, that their faith is perfidy, and their only policy is rapine, plunder and oppression. The whole history of our former association with the northern states admonishes us that in a common government they will never fail to employ their power to take away our property. Their present malice springs chiefly from baffled cupidity. But for this master passion of their nature, an honorable and speedy peace would be easy. The war has fully developed all their purposes, and you now know the fate that awaits you in the event of subjugation. Your liberties will utterly perish. Your state organization will be blotted out. All your property of every description will be confiscated, for all of us have participated in the revolution. Your lands will be divided out among the banditti from the north and from Europe, who have invaded our state. A free negro population will be established in your midst, who will be your social equals and military governors. Negro guards will, at their pleasure, give you passes and safe conducts, or arrest you to be tried and punished by negro commandants and magistrates: and to these, yourselves, your wives and children will be menial laborers and slaves, except those of you whom the malice of your enemies shall reserve for the dungeon or the gallows.

Such is the doom denounced for the people of the south by the wicked race now warring upon us. But we know it can never be executed. An army of veterans have resolved that their country shall not be enslaved; and while their purpose stands, the enemy's designs will continue to be baffled. Among you there is one spirit—that of eager and resolute determination. The temper of the army has reached the people at home, and inspired them with a fresh courage and a more assured confidence. Every where we see multiplied evidences of energy and enthusiasm. In all the states we find the resolution to endure every extremity rather than submit; and with this spirit our people are invincible. The armics are filling up their ranks, and the legislation of congress has added still further to their numbers and efficiency. Those citizens who remain at home to carry on the industrial pursuits essential to the support of the army, will see to it that you shall not want for food while you are exposing your lives to protect their property and homes from rapine. The defence of the country has become its business, and every citizen is required to contribute to it in his proper sphere. The general assembly of the commonwealth has taken steps to aid those families of her soldiers who may be in want, and it will not fail to do all in its power to provide for and cherish them. They have authorized and directed the purchase or impressment of unlimited supplies for their maintenance; appropriated one million dollars for the relief of such as are within the lines of the enemy, and half a million as hospital fund for the sick and wounded. An organized agency of the state distributes the voluntary contributions of patriotic citizens. Individually and collectively, in county, city and state organizations, the people with one accord are determined to feed, clothe, sustain and cherish the army.

On the other hand, your enemies are appalled by the magnitude of the task before them. The lond boastings which a few weeks since they so freely uttered, have been silenced by your unanimous reenlistments, for the war, and the stern and resolute bearing of the south. Dissentions exist among them. Eager to possess the spoils of their corrupt and profligate government, they hate each other nearly as much as they do us. The war is no longer popular. The rich are allowed to buy an exemption, and thus east all the burden and risk upon the poor. The laboring classes have already revolted against the draft. To escape its odium, enormous bounties have been offered to volunteers; but all these expedients have failed, and again a heavy draft has been ordered. The armies of the enemy are every day diminishing, and it is evident they cannot recruit them to the numbers with which they began the struggle. A large and growing party are for peace. A still larger party have discovered that the war has so far only served to entail upon themselves a despotism which tramples down every public and private right. They feel and acknowledge that they are the slaves of one whose character has made him odious to the world. Torn by party and personal strife, and conscious of the impotence of their scheme of conquest, the ranks of your enemies are already beginning to waver. One more resolute. effort, and the day is ours.

God will strengthen your arms in the hour of battle, and give his blessing to a just cause. Independence and peace will be conceded by your enemies, and you, the defenders of the commonwealth, may return to your homes to receive the welcome due to the brave, and to enjoy those honors which will grow brighter as your years shall be prolonged. And when our ears shall be no longer startled by the "clash of resounding arms," and a happy, prosperous and permanent peace shall succeed, returning from the fields of your fame, you will be greeted with tears of joy by the loved ones at home—the heroes of every circle—to receive the smiles of the fair and become the theme of gratitude and praise around every hearthstone, protected by your valor.

Then every heart shall rejoice in that quiet which your courage has secured. Not the quiet of deserted homes and desolated farms; of sacked eities and rifled churches; of villages in ashes and towns in ruins; but the quiet of smiling farms, when the blue smoke shall carl again above the ancestral trees, to welcome back the long exiled reager to his home. The quiet of thriving villages, when the old man on his crutch and the brave and warnworn veteran with his armless eleeve, shall tell of bloody battles and scenes of privation to smiling children around him. The quiet of prosperous cities, whose wharves shall whiten with an opulent commerce; whose shops shall hum with a busy industry, and whose spires point to that haven of rest which is far away. Then from a thousand happy hearts and lappy homes shall arise thanksgiving and praise to the God of battles, as of grace, while tears of gratitude will embalm the memories and bedew the graves of the brave men whose blood has been shed as a libation to liberty.
